Adoring the Newborn King with the Magi

“God in a plan of sheer goodness freely created man to make him share in his own blessed life. For this reason, at every time and in every place, God draws close to man. He calls man to seek him, to know him, to love him with all his strength.”

This beautiful message which begins the official Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us that God wants to share his happiness with us. However, since God respects human freedom, he is not forcing our response to him. Instead, he calls us to seek him, to know him, and - after finding how amazing he is - to love him.

This is exactly what we see in the attitude of the Magi in today’s Gospel. These wise star-watchers, represent among the pagans the docile openness and readiness to obey the truth that we first found in Mary and in Joseph. They reveal the essence of their soul’s attitude to king Herod when they said to him: “We saw... and we came.” As in Mary and Joseph, in the Magi, too, we find a simple directness and speed leading without hesitation from insight to action: they saw the Newborn King’s star, and immediately they came to adore him. In these pagans we encounter a perfect unity between patient science and moral justice that offers a permanent example to us Christians: the wise man seeks truth, and when he finds it he does not hesitate to adore it, to subject himself to it.

What the Magi want to do as the goal of their entire exhausting journey, is to adore. The Greek original Bible text uses the word “proskinesai” for “adore” – literally, to venerate the King by “bending down to the ground” before him. The Truth – God – claims us whole for himself, and blessed indeed we will be if we can manage to surrender ourselves wholly to him, body and soul. Was it not Mary who entirely surrendered herself to her Son and unceasingly adored the Christ from the moment of his conception and after he was born? The Magi simply joined Mary in her veneration.

The Magi in the Gospel story are not the only ones who seek the truth: King Herod, too, made an investigation. However, his inquiry does not lead him to the Truth and to adoration. Herod is a prototype of those who spend time, energy, and talents in protecting their illusions. He is so consumed with self-protecting ambition that he is not able to marvel at the sign of the star he nevertheless believes.

Herod wants the Magi – the people who are looking to adore the King of the Universe – to be spies for him. Only incurable blindness can be so arrogant. Herod prepares the ambush of the real King of the Jews with all the means of earthly power and human duplicity at his disposal. He pretends to want to adore the Newborn King: he tells the Magi that he and they share the same holy intent. Feigning devotion and the search for truth is the chief instrument of his method. He is posing as a pious Jew in quest for God but he intends to destroy what he says he wants to adore. Is not this very method wide-spread in our contemporary world, in our well developed nations? Under the disguise of nicely sounding nomenclature the real moral horror is hidden. Is “reproductive health rights” not a pleasant sounding label? In reality, it stands behind denying the right to life of an innocent child in the mother’s womb. Is not the “Respect Marriage Act” recently signed into law in the U.S. actually profoundly disrespectful towards real marriage?

The Magi did not allow themselves to be deceived and misled by nice words and the pretentious behavior of King Herod. They recognized and adored THE King - Jesus. Will we follow them?

Let’s all bow down and adore the Newborn King!

Fr. Mark Jurzyk

AN EPIPHANY BLESSING FOR THE HOME

This short liturgy is a way of marking our homes, usually at the main entrance, with sacred signs and symbols as we ask God's blessing upon those who live, work, or visit throughout the coming year. Although the service is intended for use in home dwellings like apartments, condos, houses, and college dorms, it is certainly appropriate when adapted for use in offices, places of business, nursing homes, hospital rooms, and extended-care facilities. On the Twelfth-Night after Christmas, many families gather in their homes to celebrate this Epiphany feast with friends, food, singing, and gifts. It is at these Twelfth-Night celebrations that "Chalking the Door" with this blessing is most often observed.

ONE: The Lord be with you;

ALL: And also with you.

ONE: Peace be to this house!

ALL: And to all who live here!

ONE: Let us pray.

O God, you once used a star to show to all the world that Jesus is your Son. May the light of that star that once guided wise men to his birth, now guide us to recognize him in the epiphanies of the daily experiences of our lives. As we go about our work, our study, our play, keep us in its light and in your love. May all who enter here find your gracious hospitality, for Christ has come to dwell in this house and in these hearts.

ALL: May Christ bless our home! Amen.

(Each person present can take turns writing the following blessing over the doorway of the house with chalk)

20 + C + M + B + 23

(The letters have two meanings. They are the initials of the customary names of the Three Magi:

Caspar, Melchior and Balthasar. They also abbreviate the Latin words "Christus Mansionem Benedicat", "May Christ bless the house". The year is divided before and after the these letters. The crosses (+) represent the protection of the Christ.)

In Memoriam
POPE EMERITUS BENEDICT XVI

April 16, 1927 – December 31, 2022

Papacy:

April 19, 2005 – February 28, 2013

Joseph Alois Ratzinger was born in Marktl am Inn, Bavaria, on April 16, 1927—Holy Saturday—and baptized that same day—the first person baptized in the new Easter water. It was a sign of blessing, he wrote in a memoir, that his life from the beginning was thus immersed in the Easter mystery. He entered the minor seminary in 1939 at the age of twelve, but his studies were interrupted by World War II, when the seminary was closed and Joseph, along with most of his class, was drafted into the army at the age of sixteen.

After the war he resumed his education in philosophy and theology, and together with his brother, Georg, was ordained a priest in 1951. During the course of a twenty-year career as a professor of dogma and theology at several German universities, he earned a reputation as a gifted lecturer and learned scholar, and was present as a peritus, or theological advisor, at all four sessions of the Second Vatican Council.

He was ordained an archbishop in May of 1977 and elevated to the College of Cardinals a month later. He settled in Rome in 1981 and went on to become one of the most influential men in the Roman curia. Of the many offices he held, he was best known as the Prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, an authoritative advisor on doctrinal issues during his predecessor's pontificate. When he was elected the 265th successor of Peter in 2005 at the age of seventy-eight, he became the first German pope since Victor II in the eleventh century. A central theme of his papacy was the staunch defense of core Christian values against what he saw as moral decline across much of Europe. At the same time, he sought to improve relations with other religions, trying to determine if a “cultural synthesis” was possible without losing the identity of the faith while engaged in discourse with the Lutheran World Federation, Judaism, Islam, the Anglican Communion, and Christian Orthodox Churches. He also spoke out against human rights abuses and ongoing political conflicts and warfare, and advocated better protection of the environment. He called for a radical rethinking of the global economy, criticizing the growing divide between rich and poor, and pressed for a “true world political authority” to oversee the economy and work for the common good.

Ever true to his episcopal motto, “Fellow Worker in the Truth,” Pope Benedict XVI's teaching and prolific writings always defended traditional Catholic doctrine and values.

On February 11, 2013, Pope Benedict XVI announced that on February 28, 2013, he would resign as supreme pontiff due to his advanced age and deteriorating health and that a conclave would be convened shortly thereafter to elect a new pope. He returned to Rome and remained there as Pope Emeritus after Jorge Bergoglio succeeded him as Bishop of Rome.

Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him.
